DOCUMENTATION OF PEOPLES BIODIVERSITY REGISTER AT GRAM PANCHAYAT LEVEL

Deputy Conservator of Forest

Social Forestry division :Binkadkatti District : Gadag

Foreword

Biological Diversity Act, 2002 aims to promote conservation, sustainable use and equitable sharing of benefits arising out of the use of India's biological resources. The Act provides for constitution of Biodiversity Management Committees (BMCs) at all local bodies for the purpose of promoting conservation, sustainable use and documentation of Biological Diversity and chronicling of knowledge relating to Biological Diversity.

One of the main functions of BMCs' is the preparation of People's Biodiversity Registers (PBRs). The PBR is a comprehensive document on biological resources and associated traditional knowledge. The preparation of PBRs is a huge task which involves students, teachers and local knowledgeable persons. The preparation of PBR in Korlahalli Gram Panchayat, Mundaragi Taluk, Gadag District of Karnataka was undertaken by Karnataka Biodiversity Board. The Board has provided the leadership and guidance to concerned Biodiversity Management Committee to achieve this objective.

The documentation of Biodiversity empowers the local bodies to establish and exercise its sovereign rights over biological resources in their jurisdictions. I thank all those who have joined hands with the Karnataka Biodiversity Board and contributed for PBR preparation, a task of national importance. Further, I thank the office bearers of Biodiversity Management Committees for their effort.

The documentation of biodiversity and prescription listed will go a long way in proper management, conservation and sustainable use of biodiversity so that the future generation is also able to benefit from it.

Deputy Conservator of Forest (Social Forestry) and Nodal Officer

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The preparation of People's Biodiversity Register entrusted by The Karnataka Biodiversity Board (Department of Forests, Ecology and Environment), Government of Karnataka encompass documents of community and individual knowledge of occurrence, sustainable conservation, as well as economic uses of Biodiversity resources. Such documentation would instill a greater sense of pride among local communities over the knowledge they possess and the natural resources they inherit. Also this PBR will be of help to generate an understanding among the stakeholder and local communities can find ways of conserving and sustainably using Biodiversity in a people-friendly manner.

We would like to express our profound gratitude and thanks to all those who have played a vital role in the preparation of this PBR. We would like to extend sincere thanks to The Karnataka Biodiversity Board for giving us an opportunity to carry out this Registry work, especially for the financial support from the Board.

We sincerely acknowledge the valuable suggestions and guidance of Sri. Chandrababha, Deputy Conservator of Forests, Social Forestry Gadag extended during the course of this important project work.

We are greatly thankful to our study team, Mr. Professor, S.B.Hiremath, Dept. of Zoology, and BSc. students Mr.Basavaraj.A.Baddi, Mr.NagarajRaikar, who have tirelessly worked hard for gathering the required data.

We extend our gratitude to all the Government officials/Staff, BMC Members, local knowledgeable persons, Nativaidyas, educational institutions, youth groups; progressive farmers, local youth club members and local people who contributed their efforts in making this register success.
